

Unit 6

The Quaid's Vision and Pakistan

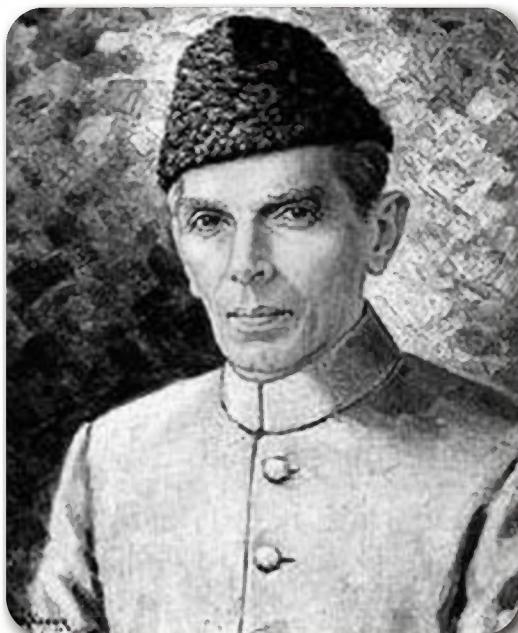

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this unit students will:

- know about a national pride
- discuss the qualities of a good orator
- write about a personality
- learn participatory citizenship and peaceful co-existence
- illustrate use of kinds of adverb, infinitives and gerunds
- know the use of conditional sentences

Pre-reading:

- What do you infer about the text from the given title and the picture?
- Share the information you already have about Quaid-e-Azam.
- What was the Quaid's role in the freedom movement of Pakistan?

For the Teacher:

- Conduct pre-reading activities to assess the students' prior knowledge and arouse their interest in the topic.
- Explain to the students the leadership qualities of Quaid-e-Azam.
- Tell them the struggle he made for the achievement of Pakistan.

- During the early and difficult times of Pakistan's emergence, Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah, undertook a countrywide tour. He aimed at raising people's spirit.

Why did the Quaid have to take long tours during the early days of independence?

"Do not be overwhelmed with the enormity of the task," he said in a speech at Lahore, "There are many examples in the history of young nations, building themselves up by sheer determination and force of character. You are made of sterling material and second to none. Keep up your morale. Do not be afraid of death. We should face it bravely to save the honour of Pakistan and Islam. Do your duty and have faith in Pakistan. It has come to stay."

- The entire journey of the great leader's struggle for a separate homeland for the Muslims of the subcontinent was based on the pivot of the Muslim unity and the oneness as a nation. He talked about Pakistan in such clear terms that even a common man could understand it.

Why did the Quaid want the oneness of the whole nation?

"We are a nation," he affirmed three years before the birth of Pakistan, "with our own distinctive culture and civilization, language and literature, art and architecture, names and nomenclature, sense of values and proportion, legal laws and moral codes, customs and calendar, history and traditions, aptitude and ambitions — in short, we have our own distinctive outlook of life."

- The ideology of Pakistan was based on the fundamental principle that the

- While-reading activity may be conducted to interact with the text, more while-reading questions may be asked.

Muslims are an independent nation. Any attempt to merge their national and political identity will be strongly resisted.

- Quaid-e-Azam was a man of strong faith and belief. He firmly believed that the new emerging state of Pakistan based on the Islamic principles would reform the society as a whole. In his Eid message, September 1945, Quaid-e-Azam said, "Islam is a complete code regulating the whole Muslim society, every department of life collectively and individually."
- Today the Quaid's Pakistan is facing numerous challenges. We have forgotten how much struggle the Muslims had made under the dynamic leadership of Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah. We can overcome our present difficulties by following the Quaid's golden motto, "Faith, Unity and Discipline". We can make our nation strong by remembering his advice to the youth, "It is now up to you to work, work and work; and we are bound to succeed."

Are we working according to the expectations of the great leader?

What is the result of neglecting the advice of the Quaid?

Theme:

The theme is the national pride and the role of the hero in the art of nation-building. Our great leader Quaid-e-Azam was profoundly concerned for his nation as well as for Pakistan. His goal was not only the achievement of Pakistan but also to stabilize the nation and the state simultaneously. For the accomplishment of this mission he undertook countrywide tours at the cost of his health. He strived for the unity of the masses and the welfare of Pakistan and its people.

For the Teacher:

- Explain to them how much he was concerned for the unity among the Muslims of the subcontinent.
- Explain to them how we can overcome our national problems by following his advice.

Grammar

Adverbs

A word that modifies the meaning of a verb, an adjective, or another adverb is called an adverb. Adverbs usually come in the following positions in a sentence.

Example: She was singing beautifully (adverb of manner) at a concert (adverb of place) last Sunday (adverb of time).

Infinitives

- a. You are free to go to your masjid.
- b. He made the people work.

The words given in bold have no subject. We say that to go is the infinitive of the verb. Sometimes “to” is used as in example “a”, sometimes infinitive without to is used as in example “b”.

Gerunds

A gerund is that form of the verb which ends in -ing, and has the function of a noun.

- a. Painting is a good fun.
- b. I like painting.
- c. My favourite hobby is painting.

In these sentences painting does the work of a noun forming the subject, object and complement.

Conditionals: Type III (unfulfilled condition)

Conditionals of this type say that something did not happen because a certain condition was not fulfilled.

Example: Had we paid heed to his warnings and advice, we would not have got entangled into petty pursuits that have brought forth only disunity and disharmony among our ranks.
